Subject: New Submission Deadline for Grants.gov

Attention all Principal Investigators, beginning January 1, 2007 the new submission deadline will be 96 (4 days) hours for the "completed" Grant.Gov application.

As many of you are aware the federal government continues to move forward with its plans to transition all proposal submissions through Grants.Gov. The added technical requirements of supporting grants.gov submissions by the OGCA requires more lead time than is currently being honored by most submitters. In order for OGCA to assure a submission will be completed we must have a minimum of four (4) working days from the submission deadline in order to achieve this. All proposals received after this deadline must be accompanied with a justification memo from the College Dean.
